Everyone's a winner!

Dobcross shines in Saddleworth Christmas lights competition. Again.

Once again Dobcross managed to bring a smile to the faces of residents and visitors by putting on a fabulous lights display over Christmas.

Saddleworth Parish Council were so impressed that they decided to award Dobcross village with a special 'Community Prize' in recognition of everyone's outstanding contribution to the Christmas lights display.

New landlord and landlady at The Swan, Sam & Pauline Wilson, joined in whole-heartedly and scooped the 'Best Pub' in Saddleworth award.

Tim & Michael of 4 Woods Lane won best illuminated small house for the 3rd year running and Dave & Helen of Saddleworth Bank were 'highly commended'.

The Band Club's 'Dobcross in Lights' judges also recognised these three properties with the trophy returning to Saddleworth Bank.

A Village Dream

Find your inner thespian!

It has been proposed that a production of 'A Midsummer Night's Dream' be staged at fresco within Dobcross. Presently we are at the discussion stage and a planning meeting has been arranged for Monday, 9th February at The Swan (7.30pm) when it is hoped we can appoint a council of war. If you can help in any way, please attend the meeting. Age, inexperience or infirmity is no bar. It is proposed that three performances be undertaken - principally Midsummer's Day and two further performances to be arranged.

Let's make this truly a Village Dream for all the community!

For further discussion, clarification or explanation please contact Alex on or 07951 or email @hotmail.co.uk

PostMasterChef!

SUKHI SINGH, the village postmaster and chairman of Dobcross Village Community, came a step closer to realising his dream of becoming a restaurateur by beating over 6,000 other hopefuls to make it on to BBC TV's 'Masterchef' programme.

On Thursday 22nd January, viewers saw him compete against 5 other would-be chefs in the 'invention test' round when he created a risotto with butternut squash, honey and goats' cheese. The 'well-seasoned and well-cooked' dish impressed judges John Torode and Greg Wallace so much that Sukhi was chosen as one of three contestants to go through to the next round - the challenging 'pressure test'. This was held at one of the country's top modern European restaurants, 'Bank' in Westminster. Sukhi was put in charge of preparing halibut with a crab & herb crust with asparagus and a seafood dressing.

Then it was back to the studio where he cooked scallops with chilli & ginger purée topped with sweet potato crisps followed by smoked mozzarella chicken in Parma ham, potatoes and masala sauce.

Hard-to-please judges John & Greg praised 'fusion cook' Sukhi for his 'culinary talent'.

Unfortunately only one contestant was able to make it through to the quarter-final stage and Sukhi was passed over in favour of a young, blonde Australian woman in a very short mini-skirt, who had somehow managed to grab John and Greg's attention.

Sukhi's cooking skills are already very well-known in the village. He gave a fascinating Indian cooking demonstration up at the Band Club recently and his offer to cook a meal for six at last year's village auction attracted the highest bid of the night.

Congratulations to Sukhi for progressing so far in this highly competitive, prestigious contest and good luck for the future!

Congratulations!

Mark & Michelle are the lucky winners of last month's Dobcross Dairy competition. They win a main meal for 2 with a carafe of house wine at THE SWAN for knowing that Jennings' Cumberland is Sam's best-selling cask ale.

Cyril Walker

Organist & Choirmaster 1997 - 2007

Cyril Walker was Organist and Choirmaster at Holy Trinity Church, Dobcross from 1997 until his death in 2007. Cyril was a superb organist and extremely skilled at developing musical talents in children particularly related to singing. We miss his skills at the organ, with our choristers and his contribution to the general life of our church.

However, Cyril has left a wonderful legacy. Firstly, he worked extremely hard to secure the future of the Wadsworth Organ, which arrived at Holy Trinity Dobcross in the 1960s. The organ was approaching 100 years of age and needed a serious overhaul. Cyril worked tirelessly with the PCC to ensure that we didn't overlook this important piece of work. So in the summer of 2007, Cyril achieved his goal and the organ left for George Sixsmith's premises (whilst the church was being re-lit and re-decorated). By the time that the organ returned, Cyril had sadly passed away. It is with much regret that he never had the opportunity to play the instrument again.

The second legacy are the choristers that Cyril enthused. A number have been inspired by music and have gone on to sing in cathedrals and even in the Royal Albert Hall. A significant number of choristers past and present have also taken up other instruments (particularly brass).

So the 'Cyril Walker' Celebration Concert at The Holy Trinity Church, Dobcross on Sunday afternoon, 15th February at 2.30pm (see below for more details) features Cyril's organ being played by the highly regarded Simon Lindley who is the organist at Leeds Parish Church and Leeds Town Hall, playing some well-loved organ music. In addition, we are joined by Symphonic Brass from The University of Warwick playing well-known classical pieces arranged for brass - one of their members was inspired by Cyril at the age of seven.

Please do join us at this celebration for an entertaining afternoon of music. There is also a special celebration service in the morning at 10:30am led by Revd Canon John Sykes. Some of Cyril's favourite music will be sung and played and the service will include the re-dedication of the organ and the dedication of an oak organ-music cupboard in memory of Cyril.

Nature Note by Athene Noctua

Did you have time to take part in the 30th Big Garden Birdwatch on 24th-25th January? It is the world's biggest bird survey, and provides us with a vital snapshot of the UK's birds each winter. Read what our resident nature expert has to say about the birds to be found in Dobcross...

"Recent spells of cold weather have made life hard for the birds which remain in Saddleworth during the winter. The moorland is largely unpopulated apart from crows and ravens. Fields too can look empty, except for a few mistle thrushes probing the earth for grubs where moles have turned up piles of fresh soil. Around the village and in the gardens the picture is different. Flocks of finches move from feeder to feeder following the food supplies put out for them. There have been large numbers of chaffinches and goldfinches, and family parties of bullfinches. On the other hand, greenfinches seem to be fewer than in recent years, as do members of the tit family.

On sunny days, even when it is still cold, house sparrows chirp from cover in thick hedges. Early breeders like thrushes, wood pigeons and collared doves have already started to sing. Dippers too are establishing territories along the river. Many of the berries have recently been stripped from the bushes near the entrance to the former Measurements factory. The ground underneath is covered with dropped fruit – signs that we may have had a flock of waxwings feeding in our area."

Dobcross Bird Quiz

Just for fun, can you identify all the birds pictured? They are all mentioned in the article - except one. Which one?

(If you want to see the pictures in colour, please email dobcrossdiary@dobx.net and I will send you the Dobcross Diary in colour by email. For more help identifying birds, visit www.rspb.org.uk)

SADDLEWORTH CARERS GROUP

Dementia is generally a disease of "old" age i.e. it can develop from one's fifties. (Rarely, even earlier.) There are about 600,000 sufferers in the UK and the number is rising in line with our aging population so that there may be up to one million in the next decade.

It takes many forms, from Alzheimer's, with its steady progression, vascular dementia with a step progression, and various stroke-induced problems. 90% are looked after by carers - often the spouse or close relative. (Carers, it has been estimated, save The Government/NHS approximately £80 billion per year!) Thus there is a great burden carried by such people who are often worn-out, demoralised, feeling isolated and often unaware of all the help, including financial, that may be available.

There is a dearth of help in the Saddleworth area and with this in mind Dr. Eamon O'Daly is setting up a support group. In fact the first well-attended meeting was held Friday, 9th January. Eamon is a semi-retired GP living in Saddleworth, but whose Practice was in Dewsbury where he set up several such successful groups in that area.

The next meeting is scheduled for Friday 13th February at 10am in the community room of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, High St in Uppermill.

Everyone affected by dementia in their role of carer are welcome. Coffee and biscuits are free! If more information is needed Dr O'Daly can be reached on 810614 -but please don't overwhelm him.

Dobcross Silver Band

The first 'home' concert by the Silver Band led by Grenville Moore on 21st December 2008 was a resounding success. An appreciative Christmas crowd joined in with all the carols and songs and had a smashing time. It was great to see the band in such safe hands.

Adult Brass Training Sessions

Grenville's adult training sessions, which started in January are going very well. So far seven adults have picked up instruments and they are reportedly making remarkable progress. Grenville is keen to encourage anyone who is thinking about joining in to come along as soon as possible, so as not to get left behind. Why not give it a try?

Just turn up at the Band Club at 7pm on Mondays and see how it goes.

What an opportunity!

Dobcross Then and Now Nicker Brow

Nicker Brow 1910 Photo: Saddleworth Historical Society

Did you know that Nicker Brow was once part of an important packhorse route from Holmfirth to Rochdale? Coming down off Saddleworth Moor via Saddleworth Church it crossed Diggle Brook at Brownhill Bridge, then up to the village via Nicker Brow and Sugar Lane. It left the village via Platt Lane then through Grange and Denshaw towards Rochdale. Bridge House no doubt took its name from Brownhill Bridge at the bottom of Nicker Brow and was mentioned as early as the 14th century. Dobcross itself formed at the crossroads of this packhorse route with another important route from Huddersfield over Standedge down Woods Lane and over Wharmton to Ashton-u-Lyne.

[Many thanks to Mike Buckley for the historic notes]

The Dobcross Village Community (DVC) has organised several clean-up projects, including one to keep this pedestrian entrance to the village free of weeds and overhanging branches. Here is a clipping from the Dobcross Diary archives showing volunteers working together down Nicker Brow in October 2003.

The DVC is a great forum designed to help everyone in the community get involved in village life - whatever his or her particular area of interest or expertise may be. Just a quick glance at this issue of the Diary shows just how diverse a group of people we are in Dobcross (music, amateur dramatics, , socialising, the outdoors, cookery, history, church activities, astronomy etc, etc). As such, Dobcross is probably not unlike life, who feel proud of Dobcross and everything it has to offer.

AGM and The Constitution

On Monday 9th March there will be the DVC Annual General Meeting (8pm at Holy Trinity School). Amongst other things, committee members will be elected and there will be a proposal to accept a new constitution, which aims to simplify and clarify the existing one. Copies of the proposed constitution will be available at the meeting and can also be obtained from Eric (874780 or by email at janricsadd@hotmail.com) and Valerie (Tel: 875627 or by email: kavanaghsindobcross@talktalk.net) and it will be on display in the village notice board opposite the post office. Everyone is welcome to attend the AGM. There will be cheese and wine available and we hope to have a progress report on the Village Dream production.

DVC Funds

Throughout the year, the DVC raises money to help fund village projects. Do you belong to a Dobcross club or society that would benefit from a small injection of cash? The DVC exists to help all local activities. You don't get if you don't ask, so speak to a committee member!

Do you remember?

Reproduced to the left, is the first edition of the Dobcross Diary. Can you remember when it first came out? Well, it has been ten years! The first issue came out in January 1999. Does it seem that long ago?

we benefit from having a good sense of community which helps bring people together. The Dobcross Diary is just one project the DVC organises. It was set up to aid communication within the village and to let everyone know what is going on. Whatever else the DVC does is very much up to the people involved. Do you have an idea for a project like the one above? Do you feel strongly about issues affecting the village? Contact a DVC member or the Diary and get your voice heard!

The DVC is not anything to do with the Council, nor is it affiliated to any particular political group, church or any other organisation. It is just ordinary people in the village, from all walks of

Do you know someone who has moved away from Dobcross and might like to read about 'home'? Let me know their email address and I will gladly send it to them, too. Don't worry, I won't pass on any email addresses to anyone else. Of course, everyone will still get a paper copy delivered to the door as usual. Just a thought!

Michael, Editor dobcrossdiary@dobx.net

Hi Michael,

Just wanted to say a big thanks to you for publicising the Billy Coxon Event on 12th December. Also wanted to say thanks to the Dobeccross community (through the Diary) for supporting it. The event was a huge success. Over 200 people attended the concert (and danced the night away). Most importantly, the concert raised over £400 for the Children's Wish charity and over 400 presents were donated. The presents will be given to children in need in the Greater Manchester area this Christmas.

Cathy Heaven

Hi Michael

In the next issue could you put in a small insert asking if there are any telescope owners in and around Dobeccross? I have recently been given a 'scope and was wondering if any other like-minded enthusiasts wanted to get together for a "Star Party" in Dobeccross somewhere - an evening to do some star/planet/moon gazing. A tentative date for a bigger do could be MoonWatch 28th March-5th April.

Trust your instincts

A note for the Diary from local PCSO Rachel Stead,

"We want residents to be confident in reporting incidents, as many crimes and incidents go unreported and give us a false sense of what is really going on in our area. Many people think they would be wasting our time, or that someone else will report it. Please do not hesitate to report anything that you feel is suspicious, no matter how insignificant you feel it may be. Your initial instinct could be right. Any information you provide no matter how small, could well be the missing piece of the puzzle."

After graduating from York University last year, he has saved up enough money to fund a trip to South America. So far, he reports that his Spanish is coming in very handy and the rain forests are wet! I'll keep you posted! [Ed]
